

Relio

A Rive di Guia Prosecco Superiore emblematic of the excellence of Bisol's production.

It takes its name from someone who dedicated his entire life to this land, Aurelio Bisol known affectionately as "Relio".

In honour of Aurelio we have chosen grapes from our finest vineyards, steep rows of vines where only the skill and tenacity of heroic viticulture is able to bear the fatigue of "working by hand". The fresh soils endow the grapes with unmistakable acidity which, together with a healthy dose of minerality, make this Prosecco Superiore a masterpiece of balance and freshness.

The fresh soils of this Riva endow the grapes with unmistakable acidity that, combined with its elegant minerality, make this Prosecco Superiore a masterpiece of freshness and balance.

The balance between sapidity and acidity gives finesse to the sip. A pleasant freshness persists in the mouth.
